

Update

Dear Partners,

I just wanted to send out a quick update to inform you all that I have returned to the field. I have arrived safely back in Nepal and readjusting to the differences of life. I also wanted to thank all of you who have been praying for me while I was home ministering to my family especially my dad. My dad is still fighting the battle against cancer so your continued prayers for healing are requested. Since being home I've noticed an improvement in his condition, both physically and mentally, so I thank you for your prayers for him. The support I receive from you all, both emotional and financial, makes this journey that much better. Knowing I have such a supportive base of friends and family to carry me in prayer causes me to be strengthened all the more to follow the Lord however He leads me. Well this update is short and sweet but I look forward to sending out a newsletter next month informing you of how the Lord is moving here.

Blessings,

Daniel Sweet
